

University	[University Name]
Club Name	ISOC Lebanon Club
Club Objectives	An Internet Society Lebanon Club brings together students from all faculties and majors and who are ISOC Lebanon members and share an interest and belief in the Internet Society's principles and mission and who are committed to furthering ISOC goals and objectives within the [University Name] .
Club Activities	ISOC Lebanon Club takes on variety of programs and activities, depending on the interest and capacity of the club. These programs and activities may include one or more of the following: Next generation leaders program (NGL) to bring essential information, training and experience to students and prepare them to succeed as Internet technology, policy, and business leaders. Educational events to inform students and/or the general public about both non-technical and technical Internet related-issues such as Internet governance, privacy, broadband access, child safety, security, network neutrality, copyright protection, censorship and entrepreneurship. Community programs designed to ensure Internet access for economically disadvantaged individuals or those with disabilities. These programs might address training, providing special hardware/ software, etc. Networking events which help members connect with those in their areas of interest and who share their passion for the Internet.
Club Members	President: Vice President: Secretary: Treasurer: Member at Large:
Club Minimal Membership	[As required by the University's clubs establishment bylaws]
Club Advisor's Name	[If mandated by the University's clubs establishment bylaws]